Bayo Adebowale lent a voice to African widows in his book Lonely Days. Set in the rustic rural village of Kufi in southwestern Nigeria, the novel tells the story of Yaremi, a woman thrown into widowhood by the death of her husband. Lonely Days is a prose work composed by Bayo Adebowale. It is a story that presents the bad customs and traditional ceremonies widows are required to go through in Africa. The author reveals this evil tradition by telling us the story of Yaremi and other widows of Kufi village who go through harrowing and painful judgments at the death of their husbands. Oola captures today's zeitgeist of an experimental, hungry, indulgent youth. She wants to possess reflect Newell's obvious talent for observation and care. The novel is a long prose narrative in which imaginary characters and events are presented to reflect actual human experiences, e.g., Adebowale's Lonely Days, Richard Wright's Native Son.

There are three papers in Lit in Eng WAEC papers 1, 2, and 3, all of which must be taken on different days.
